I noted an interesting statistic driving down Grant Creek to the interstate. We all know there is a significant amount of traffic but has anyone logged how many vehicles go straight and how many turn right onto the westbound ramp. I counted vehicles on random dates and at random times. I found that at least 80 percent of vehicles don't make a right turn but go straight. I was delayed through 2 cycles today at noon. I dont know if the plan is to just add a right turn lane without adding a second straight lane. If that is the case, I foresee major traffic problems with any new development , let alone one this size. Just thought I would pass that along since I wont be available for the meeting.
