What is your interest in serving on this board, commission, or committee?	Missoula has given a lot to me over the years, and I want to give as much back to this community as I have received.
Do you have any special knowledge, interest, or experience that would qualify you for a position on this board, commission, or committee?	I bring 30 years of experience as a Missoula resident and employee of local government as well as a life-long passion for sustainable living. In my capacity as a land use planner for Missoula County, I was recently part of a two-person team (along with Diana Maneta, MC Sustainability Program Manager) that developed zoning regulations for cryptocurrency mining operations which are now used as a model by several other communities around the world. Further, in my professional capacity, I am in the process of rewriting the Missoula County Zoning Code, with a goal of incorporating sustainable development and land stewardship practices as much as possible. I am most excited about a new section to encourage energy efficient building construction, based on the energy use intensity model (see www.zerotool.com), as a way to reduce carbon output resulting from land development.

I am a detail-oriented person, so I pair well with more broad thinkers who can keep me out of the weeds, yet I am able to bring a team back to the details that can make or break a project. My saving grace is I tend to be a creative thinker and can keep an open mind to a wide array of ideas.

I run a tourist home in Missoula, and I am always on the lookout for ways to incorporate sustainable practices into the travel experience. As is evident on my resume (attached), my past job and volunteer experiences have often involved researching sustainable practices and working toward solutions to problems of resource (over)consumption and misuse. Last, but not least, I have strong writing skills, and I immensely enjoy editing written materials (much like solving a puzzle, which is also a hobby of mine). Thank you for your consideration.
